DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Dasgupta (US 6552484).

Regarding claim 1, Dasgupta discloses a cathode ray tube (figs 5-6) with an electron gun (column 5, lines 5-15), deflection means (201) for deflecting the electron beams in a deflection plane and convergence means (column 7, lines 35-49) for dynamically influencing a convergence of the electron beams with coils for generating a magnetic field with an electrically conducting layer (Column 5, lines 45-53, ferrite).

Regarding claim 2, Dasgupta discloses a convergence means (column 7, lines 35-49) for dynamically influencing a convergence of the electron beams with coils for generating a magnetic field with an electrically conducting layer (Column 5, lines 45-53, ferrite).
